

Greenlease Says Scheme Rejected As 'Illogical'

Was Contacted by Former Du Quoin City
Judge and Detective

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Robert C. Greenlease said today he rejected a scheme to get back part of the missing half of the record $600,000 ransom paid to the kidnap-slayers of his son because "the plan wasn't very logical."

Greenlease said he had been contacted by L. P. Harris, former Du Quoin, Ill., city judge, and a private detective who offered information on the missing money which they said was obtained from a tipster.

Harris said Greenlease turned down the offer because "he had already got most of his money back." However, Greenlease reiterated that "a little under one-half of the money" was found.

Greenlease, father of slain 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, said "We weren't interested in the way they wanted to do it."

"My attorneys handled it," he said.

The millionaire automobile dealer said the plan involved the use of one of his Cadillac cars equipped with a recording machine. Sandra O'Day, who spent a night with the slayer shortly before his arrest, was to be taken for a ride in the automobile and asked what she knew about the missing money.

Statement Denied

Greenlease said those who proposed the scheme "would expect some reward."

The O'Day woman was quoted in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch as telling associates she knew where the missing money could be found. The paper also reported that Harris' tipster was Miss O'Day's former husband, ex-convict Thomas Lloyd Hammond, Du Quoin. However, Hammond denied he was the informant.

Greenlease paid $600,000 in ransom to Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady after they had kidnapped and murdered the little Greenlease boy in 1953. Hall was arrested in St. Louis after spending a night in a motel with Miss O'Day.

Authorities recovered only $300,000 of the ransom money, although Hall claimed he had most of the money with him at the time. The two St. Louis policemen who arrested Hall later were jailed in connection with the missing ransom money.

Harris said the informant came to his office after the kidnapping and said he knew where the missing money was. The two gave their information to the FBI, Harris said, and later he was contacted by a Kansas City private detective who suggested he tell his story to Greenlease. Harris said the detective apparently was employed by Greenlease.

"I went to see Mr. Greenlease along with Henry Goodman, a Belleville, Ill., private detective who has since died," the ex-judge said. "We offered to put him in touch with this man who knew about the money. But Mr. Greenlease said he didn't think he was interested."

House Defeats Powell Move to Prevent Permanent Sales Tax Increase by Party-Line 82-77 Vote

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—House Republicans Monday beat down a Democratic move to keep the 1955 half cent sales tax increase from becoming permanent, and charged the move was aimed at "embarrassing" Gov. William G. Stratton's administration.

The half cent increase, making the tax 2 1/2 per cent, was imposed in 1953 for two years only. The administration has a bill in this session to extend the increase indefinitely.

Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna) tried to amend the bill to limit the extension of the increase to another two years.

But Republican Majority Leader John W. Lewis Jr. (R-Marshall) charged Powell was seeking only to "embarrass" the administration by forcing it into the position of

State Extends Admission Fees to Fort Massac, Dixon Springs Parks

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Illinois Conservation Department today announced it had accepted a recommendation of a state commission to continue admission fees at certain Illinois state parks and will extend it to all state parks more than 100 acres. Lewis Martin, Springfield, assistant director of the department, said approximately 30 parks will be affected.

A bill, carrying out provisions of the idea, has been prepared, Martin said, for introduction in the General Assembly. It will provide for a ten cent admission charged for every person over 12 and for every car. An alternative will be the purchase of windshield stickers for an annual fee of two dollars which would admit a car and all occupants.

For the past four years the state has charged a 10 cent admission fee at seven parks and has collected $223,453 to swell a state parks fund which also receives income from rentals, camping and concessionaires at state parks. The seven parks where fees have been collected are Grand Marais, Illinois Beach, Pere Marquette, White Pines Forest, Mississippi Palisades, Starved Rock and Matthiesen.

The Illinois Legislative Commission to study state park admission fees last month recommended continuation of the 10 cent fee for individuals and cars or a $2 annual windshield sticker such as are used in other states. The commission said there are 18 states besides Illinois asking admission fees or which are preparing to do so.

Additional parks which would be affected by extension of the admission fee which is only through the summer months, include: Apple River Canyon in Jo Davies county; Ergyle Lake, McDonough county; Beaver Dam, Macoupin county; Black Hawk, Rock Island; Cahokia Mounds, Dixon Springs; Fort Kaskaskia; Fort Massac; Giant City; Illini; Lake Le-Aqua-Na; Lowden Memorial; Nauvoo; Red Hills; and Siloam Springs.

No admission charge will be extended to Lincoln's New Salem state park near Petersburg. The state law prohibits the charging of any admission fee.

Cave-in-Rock state park on the Ohio river near Elizabethtown, is expected to be included late this summer as land acquisition takes it over the 100 acre figure.

Playoff Wednesday

Galatia Woman One of 40 Finalists In 'What's My Name' Contest

Mrs. Rita Eatherly of Galatia today waited nervously in the law offices of Arlie O. Boswell and Harry L. McCabe, where she is employed as secretary, and she has good reason to be tense.

For Mrs. Eatherly is one of the forty finalists in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat "What's My Name" contest, which will give prizes totalling $25,000, and tomorrow she goes to St. Louis for the playoff with the other 39 who got all the answers correct.

First prize will be $15,000. There will be $5,000 for second, $2,000 for third and $1,000 for fourth. Then there will be 20 prizes of $100 each.

Lot of Time on Contest

"I sure hope I can win a prize of a thousand dollars or better," she said. "Of course, a hundred dollar prize would be nice, but I wouldn't go through all the strain for a hundred dollars."

She said that the winners were announced in the Globe-Democrat Sunday and that she didn't sleep a wink Saturday or Sunday night because of the excitement involved.

"I got some sleep last night, though," she stated.

Official word of her being a finalist came by registered mail yesterday. To make sure that she knew, the newspaper called her by telephone yesterday, also.

Her preparation.

"I spent a lot of time on the contest," said Mrs. Eatherly, whose husband, James, is employed in the Sahara Coal offices. "I made two trips to the Southern Illinois university library and will probably go back there again tonight. Then magazines helped a lot. I went through a lot of Life magazines because they carry so many pictures."

Difficult to Decide

She said that there were about a half dozen pictures she believed really decided the contest.

"You had to get down to comparing ears, so difficult was it to decide on these," she said.

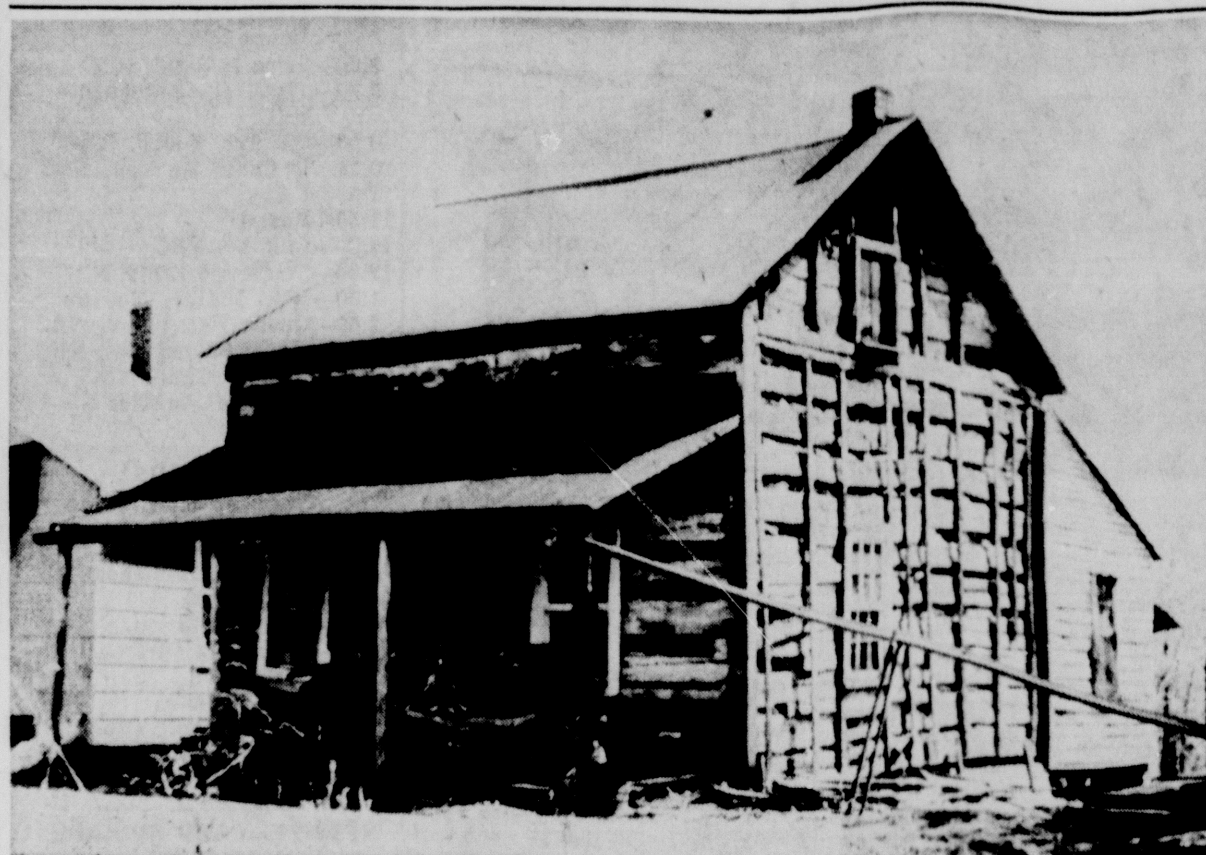

She added she believed the pictures of Jackie Cooper and Mary Astor were the hardest for her to decide upon.

Mrs. Eatherly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Richey of Brushy township, won second place in a national contest about six years ago while in high school. She was awarded a dress for her effort in telling in 25 words or less why she liked a certain picture.

She will be accompanied to St. Louis by her husband to a place revealed only to the contestants for the playoffs. The pictures, she said, will be of persons in sports, politics, business, government, entertainment and labor.

"I'm worried most about the pictures of sports figures," she stated.

U.S. Charges Russia Backed Foreign Intervention in Jordan

HEWN LOGS ARE BARED by removal of weatherboarding at 125-year-old house owned by J. E. Partain on Route 34 near Herod, who is tearing it down after building a new home immediately to the east.

Headed for Extinction

Hand-Hewn Logs Revealed in Tearing Down 125-Year-Old House

"Ain't gonna need this house no longer - - - ain't gonna need this house no more."

So this old log house you see in the above photo, out where the deer but not the antelope play, is headed for extinction.

This old house is 125 years old, on Route 34 a mile and a quarter past Herod and removal of weatherboarding reveals the hewn logs that for years and years comprised the outside of the structure.

J. E. Partain, who lived in this old house from 1906 until a week ago Friday, has built a new house adjoining it and has moved into this structure, and is tearing down the old one.

Deeded to Son For Birthday

Back in 1906 his father, W. R. (Bill) Partain sold his place at The Gap, where the Wallace grocery now stands, to Thomas Johnson and bought 60 acres with the log house on it. J. E. Partain was an eight year old boy at the time.

In 1919, on his twenty-first birthday, the place was deeded to the son as a birthday present and he has owned the premises since, adding some acreage to the original 60.

He and his wife started his new house about five feet to the east a year ago and are just getting it completed. They did all the work themselves except for the windows and for getting some help in putting up the wall board.

The log house was built about 125 years ago by the late Joe Healey. Others who lived in the place were Frank Santy, Henry Partain, Joe Lambert, John Henry Crabb and then W. R. Partain.

Deer Roam Area

"It was all under timber around here when it was built and the timber was cut right off this hill by Mr. Healey," Mr. Partain stated. The logs were hewed with a broad axe."

J. E. Partain about 30 years ago had weatherboarding cut from the sawmill and put over the logs. Inside there was one large room downstairs and a large upstairs room for sleeping. Mr. Partain had partitioned off a kitchen from the big room, tore out a big fireplace and erected a flue.

He also rebuilt the front porch. A close look at the big square logs of oak and poplar timbers shows they were chinked with slabs of walnut, sand and limestone.

Although the state highway now runs right between his property to take away some of the rural atmosphere, there's plenty of the latter because of the deer that roam in the area.

"We see deer all the time," Mr. Partain stated. "We see an average of four a day. They come down to where there are salt blocks for the horses. They won't lick the block but will lick the ground around it, where rain has washed some of the salt."

Accusation is Answer to Moscow Claims

Sixth Fleet Lands
1,000 Marines in Beirut, Lebanon

By United Press

The United States accused the Soviet Union today of backing "foreign intervention" during the recent crisis in Jordan.

The accusation was made by the State Department in answer to an earlier Moscow charge that the United States is responsible for recent developments in Jordan, where King Hussein barely saved his government from the forces of international communism.

The Washington statement came as the U. S. 6th Fleet landed 1,000 Marines in Beirut, Lebanon, today on a friendly "show the flag" mission which demonstrated U. S. striking power in the mideast danger zone.

Moscow had accused the Western powers of "outright foreign interference" in the Middle East, saying the responsibility for this intervention rested "above all on the United States of America."

To this State Department press officer Lincoln White retorted: "There has indeed been foreign intervention in that country (Jordan), namely as King Hussein said on April 24—the intervention of international communism."

Denies U. S. Interfering

In response to questions, White emphasized that the United States regards the Soviet Union as the fountainhead of international communism.

A few hours earlier King Hussein denied to a news conference in Amman that the United States is interfering in Jordan's internal affairs.

"This statement has no basis whatsoever," he said. "Everything that took place in Jordan was our own internal affair."

Hussein indicated he would accept an American offer of 10 million dollars worth of economic aid provided no strings are attached. He said the question of formal acceptance will be discussed "in the near future."

In Washington, however, White said the State Department understood the economic aid offer was accepted Monday afternoon by the Jordanian government.

United Press correspondent Larry Collins, with the 6th Fleet, radioed the men had been put ashore as part of the American move to show the flag in the troubled Middle East. Vice Adm. Charles R. Brown said the action was carried out under orders from "higher up."

The landing was a friendly one—the Marines were merely paying a visit—but they were an important part of the 1,800-man Marine landing force which entered the eastern part of the Mediterranean this week with powerful carriers.

Women Shown by Dave

Two Harrisburg women today were on a nationally-televized program — outside looking in — and were seen by local viewers.

Spotted on the Dave Garroway Today program over WSIL-TV this morning were Mrs. Dale Sullivan and Mrs. Fred Wilmoth. Each program the cameras shift to the people on the sidewalk and today the Harrisburg women were shown.

They went East to visit Mrs. Wilmoth's son, Fred, at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, and were spending some time in New York City when they were caught by the television camera.

Big Majority of Bills in Congress
Face Doom in Economy Drive

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If President Dwight D. Eisenhower were inclined to make Harry Trumanesque cracks—which he isn't—the present Democrat-controlled 85th Congress might be pictured as another "Do Nothing" session.

In its first three months' operations it has passed just 12 bills—
three in January and February,
six in March.

The House has been in session 44 days during this period, the Senate, The Congressional Record
has been filled with 4,296 pages of talk at around $7 a page—costing over $300,000 just to print.

Nearly 2,000 bills have been introduced in the Senate and over 7,000 in the House. Nothing is sure to happen to 98 per cent of them.

It would be wrong to give the impression that nothing else had been done by the 85th Congress
thus far.

Look at all the headlines the McClellan rackets probe has made.

Appropriation subcommittees in the House have also been busy with budget hearings.

In the first three months the House completed action on four appropriation bills for next year,
on which cuts of 685 million dollars were made. These are of course subject to later Senate appropriation appropriations early next year.

BUT SINCE "economy" is the watchword of this Congress, it's well to review how the boys have done so far.

Biggest cut has been in the 5.9
billion dollar Independent Offices appropriation bill to run 19 big government departments not of Cabinet rank. It was hacked 538

million.

The 3.9 billion dollar Treasury-
Post Office bill was cut 81 million.
The 515 million Interior appropriation was cut 61 million. A small, 21 million general government expenditure bill was cut 5 million.

The budget total for these bills was 10.4 billion. This was cut in the House by 6.23 per cent.
If this same rate of economizing were applied to the whole 71.8 billion budget, indicated savings would be 4.7 billion.

In the eyes of many critics of the administration, if Congress can do just this—or maybe a little better—it will be doing enough for the year to call its record "good."

But on the legislative side, only 3 of the 12 measures passed so far have any importance. And they will cost more than has been saved, in the long run.

MOST IMPORTANT of all was the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution, authorizing economic and military cooperation with the Middle East. It may cost an estimated 400 million dollars in the next two years.

Then the Small Business Administration was given an 80-million-dollar increase in lending authority. That makes the total amount it can put out to small borrowers 230 million.

Third, the Federal National Mortgage Assn.—always called Fanny May—was given a 500-million-dollar increase in borrowing authority. This will permit it to continue buying up mortgages till June 30. President Eisenhower had asked for a billion-dollar increase to ease the tight money situation in the housing market.

SMALL BUSINESS loans and Fanny May mortgages will of course be paid back to the Treasury, eventually. But it costs money to operate these agencies.
And if their programs are expanded faster than other economies are made, there's no saving.

Other legislation passed by Congress this year has been picayunish routine. Inauguration Day was made a holiday in Washington.
Several commissions were given more time to file reports. Two regents were named for Smithsonian Institution.

Republican political leaders of course say this small record of the Democrat-controlled Congress is a deliberate foot-dragging operation to make the Eisenhower administration look bad.

The Democratic reply to this is that there is no inspiration, no leadership and no drive for the administration program. Also, that many Republicans are just as unsold on it as the Democrats.

Whichever view is correct, there is increasing opinion that the prospects for the administration school aid, drought relief, civil rights, presidential succession and other proposals are daily becoming dim, dimmer, dimmest.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Life's oddities create humorous situations which amuse us frequently. We laugh about the mailman who goes on a walking trip for a vacation. We criticize the shoemaker whose children have no shoes. We ridicule the safety director who suffers an accident because he did not follow safety regulations.

Most of these things about which we smile are a part of a great blanket of inconsistencies.
We are all confused at times and do not realize how foolish our inconsistencies appear to others.
It would be well to check our actions to be sure that we are being consistent.

Our lives can make sense if we take the time to stand aside and view ourselves as other people see us. Our purely human tendencies fall far short of God's will for consistency in living. It would be even better if we could become so near to God that we could look at ourselves he He see us.

you'd want This Only Buick brings you the built-in
'Conscience' that buzzes for safety's sake

Pick the miles-per-hour you want to stay under — 25, 30, 45, etc. Roll that figure to view in the little "window" on the speedometer. When you reach that figure, the buzzer sounds. Drop below it, the buzzer stops. Your eyes stay on the road where they belong. Your pace stays at the limit it should!

ONLY in a '57 Buick will you find a power train
like this one.

Up front, a spectacular new V8 engine brimming with 300 horsepower, 400 foot-pounds of torque, a mighty 10 to 1 compression.

Right behind it, a brilliant new Variable Pitch
Dynaflo* with a new instant response.

Now that combination adds up to performance
you've never known before.

That combination makes this beauty the dream car of the year to drive, literally. You float up to cruising level so effortlessly, you hardly know you're there. (No wonder Buick offers you the Safety-Buzzer* shown here!)

But beyond this great new performance, there's more newness throughout.

The body is new, the chassis is new, the styling is new, the comfort is new — so you have a new low-sweep silhouette in a big, beautiful body that's cradled up to 3.4 inches lower, yet with full headroom inside, and full ground clearance beneath.

The brakes, the handling, the steering — everything is completely new, for smoother and more powerful stopping, for surer and sweeter cornering and tracking.

Come try the smoothest, the lowest, the brawniest,
the most instantly responsive Buick yet built—and the buy that's second to none. Drop in today.

Pitch Dynaflo is the only

Miss Jane Ellen Hughes, Robert E. Chester Wed at First Christian Church

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Chester (Foster Studio Photo)

Miss Jane Ellen Hughes, daughter of Mrs. Raphael Hess of 506 South Main street, Harrisburg, and Clyde H. Hughes of Detroit, Mich., and Robert E. Chester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chester of 103 West O'Gara street, Harrisburg, were married at the First Christian church in a candlelight ceremony on April 6, with the Rev. Glen Daugherty performing the double ring ceremony. The church altar was draped in white and decorated with jade and emerald trees. An arch, entwined with greenery, was flanked by baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a wedding gown of fan lace over taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a full ballerina length skirt. Her long sleeves came to a point over her hands. Her fingertip length veil of tulle was fastened to a head-dress of lace edged with seed pearls. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a white Bible and snowdrift chrysanthemums.

Miss Linda Adams, cousin of the bride, served as her maid of honor and wore a dress of pale blue nylon over taffeta, with a fitted bodice and a full skirt. Her headpiece was of blue velvet ribbon and miniature blue flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet of white pom-pon chrysanthemums. Walter Odum of 117 West O'Gara acted as best man. Ushers for the wedding were Delmar Cox and Ronald Matthews. The mother of the bride chose a navy blue suit with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of white gladioli.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a printed silk dress with orchid-colored accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

Mr. Chester is a draftsman with the P. J. Mallory corporation of Pana and was graduated from HTHS in the class of 1950 and SIU in the class of 1956.

The bride was graduated from HTHS in the class of 1953 and is a bookkeeper for the Ray Durham Lumber company.

Mrs. Ruth Thompson played an organ prelude to the wedding.

There was a reception in the church Fellowship hall, where a table covered with a lace covered pink cloth held the three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Donald Thomas, Mrs. Herman Erkman, Miss Judy Josey and Miss Reita Rice were hostesses and Miss Shirley Ragsdale kept the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester are at home to their friends at 208 North Broadway in Shelbyville.

Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, District Director, Five Delegates Attend Illinois PTA Meeting

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers met in its 55th annual convention at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 24, 25 and 26. The theme adopted for 1957 was "Forward with our objectives."

The meeting opened in the Grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton, at 9:30 a. m. on Thursday morning with Mrs. Milton L. Weiner, Wilmette, president, presiding. There was a procession of board members and platform guests of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. The meeting got under way with greetings from Gov. William G. Stratton, Richard J. Daley, mayor of Chicago, and Robert Sargent Shriver Jr., president of the Chicago board of education.

The report of the nominating committee, given at the Friday evening meeting became the elected ticket and installation was made by Mrs. John E. Hayes, Twin Falls, Idaho, past-president of the National Congress P. T. A. and National chairman of Program and Founder's Day. There were as many as 33 conferences scheduled at one time with district directors. Mrs. Wendell Bramlet of 210 West Lincoln, Harrisburg, is the director of this district, No. 30. This points up the scope of the P. T. A. movement with a total enrollment of 654,654 and 2,414 in district 30, a figure that has doubled in the last three years.

Mrs. Bramlet worked on the registration and election committees and the five delegates from district 30 attending were: Mrs. Dean Feavel, president-elect of the Lincoln school P. T. A. of El Dorado; Mrs. J. Ames, secretary-elect of the Jefferson P. T. A., El Dorado; Miss Nan Hicks of the Jefferson P. T. A.; Mrs. Elsie Blair, secretary of the New Haven P. T. A. and Miss Nellie Dever, president, New Haven P. T. A. District 30 is comprised of Saline, Pope, Hardin and Gallatin counties.

The legislative platform was passed at 12:30 a. m. Saturday after much discussion. Convention action was taken and a telegram was sent to Governor Stratton which read:

"We are deeply concerned with the drastic effects that the proposed $225,000,000 state budgetary appropriation would have on the children of Illinois. It is imperative that you and the State legislature provide sufficient state aid in equalization not only to maintain the present program without changing the qualifying rates but to improve it and to care for increased costs of education. We firmly believe that the state budgetary appropriation should be at least $271,000,000."

Copies of this telegram shall be sent to all members of the Illinois General Assembly. Among the outstanding entertainment events, was the singing of the All-state Mothersingers chorus, Illinois Congress P. T. A. led by Mrs. J. W. Heymum, Oak Park, state chairman, music education, ICPT.

Mrs. Wendell Bramlet

Perhaps the most educational speaker was Mark A. McClosky, chairman, New York State Youth Commission, whose address, "Partners in the Great American Adventure" expressed the thought, "The development of task and the wiser exercises of choice is a joint job of parents and teachers." and again, "The way the American family does its job has changed. The change has been dramatic since the time when the father was the exclusive breadwinner and paid for all services in the

'Quake Jolts San Francisco Area

SAN FRANCISCO — Another earthquake jolted the San Francisco Bay area Monday night, the sharpest tremor since the big one of March 22.

The University of California seismograph in Berkeley measured the force of Monday night's quake at 3.25 on the Richter scale of 10. The March 22 quake, which caused extensive damage in the western part of San Francisco and suburban Daly City, measured 5.3.

The latest shock was felt in San Francisco, the peninsula and the East Bay, but there were no immediate reports of damage.

The quake lasted for a minute and a half. Like the March 22 quake and its aftershocks, it was felt most strongly in the southern and western parts of San Francisco.

It was the second quake of the day in this area. At 1:07 a. m., home, which were performed by the mother. In today's family, both parents "wear the pants and aprons", but the American family itself is a very solid family. The love and attention that each family gives its children cannot be measured by the poll-takers, who lump statistics."

The meeting and convention were adjourned following the Saturday evening session.

a quake of 3.25 magnitude was recorded on the UC seismograph. It was centered about 15 miles northeast of Berkeley. No damage was reported.

Ever since the March 22 quake, aftershocks have shaken the San Francisco area almost every day.

IHSA Announces Dates for Annual Baseball Tourneys

CHICAGO — The Illinois High School Assn. announced plans today for its 17th annual baseball tournament.

Albert Willis, executive secretary of the IHSA, said that 375 teams, including those from 42 Chicago public high schools, will compete in this year's tourney.

Teams from southern Illinois will begin district elimination games on May 13. The winners of the 112 district games will advance to 28 four-team regional contests to be played May 20-22.

Regional winners will be paired off in seven four-team sectional eliminations, and the seven sectional winners, together with the Chicago winner, will play in the finals, to be held at Peoria on June 6-7.

REVIVAL AT ELDORADO

Rev. Clifford Bennett, pastor of the Social Brethren church at Eldorado announces a revival that started there Monday night. Elmer Grisham is the evangelist and meetings will be held each night for the next two weeks. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mound City High Students Resume Studies in Churches

MOUND CITY, Ill. — High school students here will resume their studies in churches Wednesday as authorities continue to investigate a fire that damaged McKinley School early Sunday.

State Deputy Fire Marshal Norman Hilton, Cobden, said the fire apparently started during a burglary. A soft drink machine was broken open and a vain attempt had been made to force a lock on the door to the principal's office.

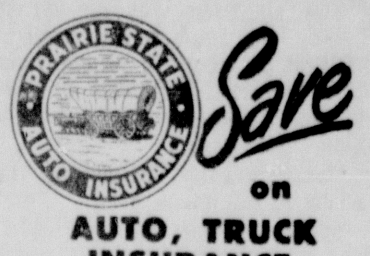

Hilton said the fire "might or might not" have been deliberate.

He said damage has been estimated at about $50,000 and that the school had only about $20,000 insurance.

Some 125 students will finish out the school year in the Methodist and Congregational churches across the street from the school. High winds on April 4 blew off the roof of the high school gymnasium two blocks away from the school.

UN Secretary-General Discusses Mid-East Threat with Pope Pius

ROME (AP)—United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld discussed the threat of war in the Middle East with Pope Pius XII today in a 45-minute private papal audience.

The audience was one of the longest the Pope has accorded a visiting dignitary in recent years. The 81-year-old Pontiff and the U. N. secretary-general talked behind closed doors.

Usually such audiences last about 20 minutes. Hammarskjöld, on his way to Geneva, Switzerland, to attend meetings of several U. N. agencies, made a special detour here to talk with Pope Pius.

To Name Senators For Hall of Fame

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five legislative "giants" of the near and distant past—Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Robert M. La Follette Sr. and Robert A. Taft—were billed today as virtually certain to adorn the Senate's Hall of Fame.

Chairman John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was expected to announce the choices Wednesday. Kennedy's five-man committee was given the task of filling five gilded, eagle-crested—but still blank—portrait spaces in the reception room just off the Senate chamber.

The 26-inning 1-1 tie game between Brooklyn and Boston, played May 1, 1920, is the longest game in major league history.

Buford Presides at Last Meeting as Mt. Vernon Mayor

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—The mayor of Mount Vernon delivered his "swan song" Monday night and said city manager government has produced results even though it hasn't been given a fair chance.

O. R. Buford, who had a fist fight with a former police officer and was evicted from his city hall office by the City Council during his stormy term of office, presided at his last full council meeting. Buford did not seek re-election. He will be succeeded next month by real estate man Virgil T. Bailey.

Buford and the councilmen have served for $1 a year. Monday night, they passed an ordinance allowing monthly expenses of $37.50 for the mayor and $25 for councilmen until 1959 when they will receive monthly salaries of $75.50 respectively.

To Detonate Two A-Test Explosions From Captive Balloons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today that at least two of the bigger explosions in this spring's weapons tests will be detonated from captive balloons high over the Nevada desert.

The explosions will yield violence greater than that of 20,000 tons of TNT, the AEC said. The bomb that destroyed Hiroshima in August, 1945, was equivalent to 15,000 tons of TNT.

The Nevada tests start May 15 and will continue through the summer.

New Navy Rocket Sets Altitude Record of At Least 180 Miles

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUNDS, N. M. (AP)—A "new and improved" Aerobee-Hi rocket set a new altitude record for a single-stage missile today when it soared aloft "at least" 180 miles.

The Aerobee, carrying special instruments which "could be used in later-stage earth satellites, sped into the upper altitude at speeds between 4,500 and 4,900 miles per hour.

The Navy, which fired the missile at 10:10 a. m. C.D.T., said radar contact was lost at 180 miles and that the rocket may have climbed "as high as 200 miles."

Navy scientists are figuring the exact altitude. But the Aerobee-Hi smashed the old altitude record of 164 miles set last summer by another Aerobee.

Navy officials said the rocket fired today was a "new and improved version" of the Aerobee which held the record for more than a year.

Today's missile carried in its specially constructed nose instruments for testing "micro-meteorites" and "solar batteries."

A Navy official said "solar batteries" could be used as an "integral heart" of later earth satellites, but would not be used in the first man-made satellite to be launched from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., later this year.

Spokesmen at White Sands said
the Navy would not know the outcome of micro-meteorite tests until later. The instruments, however, were designed to measure the density of meteoritic dust in the earth's upper atmosphere.

Cave-in-Rock Woman Dies

Mrs. Lou Emmer Johnson, 61, of Cave-in-Rock died at the Great Lakes Naval Station hospital. The body is in the care of the Rose funeral home in Cave-in-Rock and will lie in state at the family home until the funeral at Levy Pond church, Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev.
Vachel Davis of Eldorado will officiate and burial will be in the Masonic cemetery at Cave-in-Rock.

The Navy said the missile's motor burned out 53 seconds after the launching today. The radar equipment lost sight of the speeding missile at 75 seconds "and at an altitude of 180 miles."

The rocket, fired from the southern end of this mountain-rimmed proving grounds, landed 50 miles uprange—about the center of the 100-mile stretch of barren desert.

Eight Jurors Selected for Sinroll Trial

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—
Sheriff's deputies were dispatched today to round up additional veneremen in the murder trial of Fred Sinroll, Sterling.

By mid-day, the state had used 12 of its 20 peremptory challenges and the defense, eight. Only eight jurors were chosen.

Sinroll, 20, is charged with the shotgun slaying of Robert Batura, 19, Danvers, Miss., last Dec. 12
after a prank in their dormitory room at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

Eight jurors were selected at the opening of the trial Monday from among 34 prospective jurors.
State's Atty. William Ridgeway has announced he will not seek the death penalty for Sinroll.

Ridgeway and defense attorney Fletcher Lewis said they hoped to select the final four jurors today.
At his arraignment Monday Sin-roll pleaded innocent to the charge.
Authorities said Sinroll
admitted shooting Batura, a football star at SIU, but claimed it was accidental.

Among those on hand for the trial are Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Batura, parents of the victim, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sinroll, parents of the accused youth.

month, through the end of October.

The House also passed to remove the lien the state currently holds on the homestead property of persons who receive old age assistance. The state holds the lien to recover from the estate of such persons the amount of assistance they receive.

The administration's bill to apply
tax multipliers at the township rather than the county level was sent to a subcommittee for one week by the Senate Revenue Committee.

The bill is aimed at school districts which allegedly claim an unfair share of state school aid because of too-low tax assessments.

By applying the tax multiplier at the township level, the administration contends, townships which assess their property at too low rates could be forced to levy more taxes by applying a larger multiplier.

State school aid is based on the difference between the amount of money raised by local taxes and the amount needed to guarantee a spending level of $200 per pupil per year.

To Question Navy Officials on Bribery Payoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee will ask Navy officials whether the taxpayers footed the bill for a $4,200 bribery payoff to Teamster Union leaders, according to Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.).

McClellan also has threatened contempt action unless a balky Teamster official hands over union records under subpoena.

Businessman Earl P. Betten-dorf of Texarkana, Tex., testified Monday he paid $175 a week to Scranton, Pa., Teamster Union
officials so his non-union trucks could deliver goods under contract with the Navy at an Army Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna Pa.

Clams Government Aid Bettendorf said he made the payments "with the knowledge and consent of the United States government"—and said the government adjusted his contract to pay for the added cost.

Newsman later asked McClellan if the committee will question Navy officials about the payment.
"It will be gone into" McClellan said.

Rear Adm. R. J. Arnold, chief of the Navy Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, told the United Press today he had no information on the matter but that "we will investigate it promptly and thoroughly."

Fullmer, Robinson to Change Tactics in Title Bout Wednesday

CHICAGO (AP)—Stocky, muscular Gene Fullmer and slender, explosive Ray Robinson admitted today that their ring strategies in Wednesday night's return middleweight title fight will be much different from those of their January battle.

Thirty-six-year-old Robinson, attempting to win the 160-pound crown for the fourth time, said, "I fought just the way he wanted me to at Madison Square Garden, but I'll make him fight my way tomorrow night at Chicago Stadium. I won't be stupid this time."

Champion Fullmer, the 25-year-old mining welder from West Jordan, Utah, declared: "If Robinson changes his tactics tomorrow night, I'm ready to change mine too. I've been doing a lot of skull practice, studying the movies of our first bout, and I know just what to do."

Fullmer won the title from Robinson at New York, Jan. 2, on a unanimous 15-round decision after out-smarting and out-fighting veteran Ray. Moreover, Gene scored the only knockdown of the bout against his harder-hitting opponent in the seventh round.

Although Fullmer has the reputation of being a very aggressive mauler, he craftily feinted Robinson into doing most of the leading in January. He slipped under Robinson's left jabs and charged into him with countering onslaughts of ripping blows to body and head. And Sugar Ray, generally off-balanced when the counter-charges came, could only grab and hold.

But Robinson's ring tactics in training this time indicated he will do an about-face Wednesday night and "lay back" until Fullmer is forced to lead. He will try to force Fullmer to lead with his charges instead of countering with them. That will permit the waiting Sugar man to step into the on-coming Gene with smashing left hooks to the head—counter-hooks that Robinson has been sharpening for a kayo.

Robinson, an underdog at 2-1, finished his boxing with three rounds Monday at Johnny Coulton's Gym. Fullmer did his last boxing on Saturday. He weighed only 156 after that session and is trying to build up to about 159 1-2 for the bout. Robinson, who sealed 161 Monday, will have no difficulty paring down to the 160-pound limit. For the January fight, Robinson weighed 160 pounds; Fullmer, 157 1-4.

Promoter Jim Norris reported an advance sale of $105,000 indicated an ultimate gross gate of $200,000 and a crowd of 14,000. In addition, the TV-radio receipts are $100,000. The bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by ABC at 8 p. m. CST, with a 150-mile radius blackout of TV in the Chicago area.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Driving in the rain is enjoyable, but that doesn't go for driving in a RAIN STORM.

Saturday evening I was on my way to the Herrin Relays and kept watching peculiar cloud formations ahead of me and wondering if I should go on, or turn back.

About four miles east of Marion the clouds opened up with as hard a rain as it has been my misfortune to see. That made up my mind. I turned back.

Wanted to get home, but was about 40 minutes driving the 18 miles, more or less. Had to stop three times as the rain was coming down so hard I couldn't see.

When I got back in Harrisburg was told it had only sprinkled here. Then wondered if Herrin also got only a sprinkle and maybe I should have gone on to the relays.

Talked with Eldorado coaches Sunday and they assured me Herrin had a storm also, but the rains stopped just minutes before time for the relays to start, so the track meet was held on time. But the track was heavy and the runners in back caught plenty of splash from the front runners.

Guess it is stretching things more than a little to tell of driving in the rain in a sports column. But I was going to a track meet.

The first annual Rural Schools track and field meet held at Taylor Field Friday was a fine thing in my opinion.

First of all—the boys participating in the ten events seemed to have a wonderful time and great experience.

Secondly—The large crowd of spectators, many seeing their first track meet, also enjoyed themselves and gave much vocal support.

Player Swap by Red Sox, Senators

port to their favorite runners, jumpers and throwers.

Thirdly—Track and field, a basic sport, is considered a minor event in these parts and there is very little interest, both by participants and spectators.

Getting the boys active while in grade school should spur their interest to where they will look forward to taking part in track and field events during high school years.

Reserved seats for the 1957 All-Star Game to be played at Busch Stadium, St. Louis, July 9, have been sold out by a flood of orders received in the first few days' mail, Nat Hall, Cardinal ticket supervisor has announced.

"With the orders we've already received and those that are in the mail, but undelivered as yet, we probably could fill Busch Stadium several times over," Hall said. He estimated the final count of orders would be "well over 100,000."

Plans are going forward for the big car races to be held on the Saline County Fairgrounds track Sunday, May 5.

Championship drivers from other years, plus a big field of drivers anxious to cop the championship in 1957, are expected in Harrisburg.

Time trials are set for 12:30 p. m. with regular racing to follow.

Admission has been announced as $1.50 for adults, 50 cents for children and parking free.

Haney, Lopez Credit Good Pitching for Fast Starts Of Braves and White Sox

By United Press

Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves and skipper Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox both credited good pitching today for their fast getaways in the major league pennant races.

"I don't say we have the greatest but I think we have the deepest pitching staff in the National league," Haney conceded as the front-running Braves prepared to open their first eastern trip against the New York Giants tonight.

And as the first-place White Sox stood ready for their initial home stand against their eastern rivals in the American league, Lopez admitted he was "more than satisfied with our pitching."

Four Big Braves

In winning nine of their first 10 games, the Braves have relied almost exclusively on their "big four" pitching staff of Bob Buhl, Warren Spahn, Ray Crone and Lew Burdette. Haney tabbed this planned rotation as "Operation First Two Weeks."

"I told my pitchers that because of rainouts and open dates early in the season, it would be better if we got four men in top shape and concentrated on them, rather than have 10 men ready to go without enough work for all of them," the Milwaukee manager revealed.

Lopez, discussing his pitching staff before today's game against the Baltimore Orioles, said he was pleased with starters Billy Pierce, Jack Harshman and Jim Wilson.

who have accounted for six of the White Sox first seven victories. He also put in a plug for relievers Dixie Howell and Paul LaPalme.

Avoiding Overconfidence

Admitting that "everybody likes to get off to a good start," Lopez still didn't allow Chicago's fast getaway to ruin his professional perspective of the A.L. race, pointing out "we've got too long to go to judge any teams in this league."

However, Casey Stengel, whose Yankees open their western swing against the Detroit Tigers, bluntly confessed, "the White Sox are going to give us the most trouble."

In American League night games, Boston is at Kansas City and Washington at Cleveland. Three other National League night games will find Chicago at Brooklyn, Cincinnati at Philadelphia, and St. Louis at Pittsburgh.

The decision of

Arthur Maxwell

There once was an intelligent young man named Arthur Maxwell. He thought he would like to "step up" to a "medium-priced" car. So he went and looked at a model just "a few dollars more" than a Ford. At first glance it looked good. But when he got inside the car he exclaimed, "No radio? No heater? No automatic transmission? You call this Luxury?" He soon saw that a "medium-priced" car with equipment he wanted became a HIGH-priced car. So, being an intelligent young man he dashed off to his Ford Dealer and bought a Ford Fairlane—the true luxury car in the low-price field—with all the equipment he wanted, for less money than the stripped-down model he thought he wanted. Why don't you do as Arthur did?

The Rare Adventure by BERNARD FERGUSON

Copyright 1952 by Bernard Edward Ferguson. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Although they have been ordered to leave Senou, where they came as visitors, Allan and Mollie Larg are forced now to stay because of trouble in Tunisia. Allan is seeking traces of a famous Scottish relative who turned pirate two centuries ago.

IX
When Allan and Mollie came downstairs the following morning, they found to their surprise a smart native policeman, Berber by the look of him, and armed with a rifle, awaiting them outside the hotel. He gave them a smart salute and handed them a letter.

"What a lot of letters people seem to write to each other in this place," said Allan.
It was an apologetic note from the harassed Billon to the effect that he would be grateful if Allan would accept an escort for the trip to Areg, appealing once again to Allan's understanding of administrative problems on the strength of his own experience, and adding homages to Mollie.

"We'll have to accept it," said Allan, "but I wonder why he thinks it necessary?"

"I should think it's to act as chaperone," suggested Mollie.

Fernana had ordered a taxi, and said that he had sent a message to a friend of his who spoke English, and who would meet them at Areg.

The original and ancient village occupies the whole of a small rise; but the overspill of later building has spread down the slopes, and one or two larger houses stand aside a little from the rest of the town.

The higher they got, the older looked the town; until the taxi leveled out in a small square, and the policeman sprang out from his seat beside the driver to open the rear door of the car. Allan and Mollie got out; the policeman shut the door and led the way through a narrow vennel which twisted still farther up the hill, giving way every now and then to steps. Twenty yards before the summit of the vennel straightened, to disclose a long whitewashed building with a low door, beside which was standing a tall, dark, well-groomed man in European clothes, whom they recognized at once. It was the driver of the American car, whom they had first seen at Nail and again on the ferry at Marsa Yakoub.

"That stinker who might have given us a lift the other day. I wonder if he's Fernana's friend who's going to show us around?"

Apparently so; for he came forward to meet them, raising a neat panama hat as he did so. He was broad-shouldered, graceful in his movements; had distinguished features, clean-shaven, thin-nosed, neat dark brown hair; and he was wearing the same light gray suit they had seen him in at Nail.

"Colonel and Mrs. Larg, I presume?" he said. "Mr. Fernana telephoned to me early this morning to say you were coming."

"We very much wanted to come," said Mollie. "Everybody tells us that Areg is a thing which we must see."

"I will do my best to make it profitable," said their guide. "Let me just dismiss your policeman; I can promise you that you won't need his protection while you are in Areg el Kebir." And he turned to speak to the escort; but Allan interrupted.

"I'm awfully sorry; but Captain Billon particularly asked us to bring him along—in fact, I'm under an obligation to him not to get rid of him. Is there any objection to his coming with us?"

The guide looked troubled. "There is no objection at all to his coming into the synagogue unarmed; but he cannot come in with his pistol."

"Well, I dare say it would be all right if he waited outside. Would you be good enough to tell him so?"

"Certainly, Colonel Larg," and a flood of Berber followed. But the escort shook his head, and replied, also in Berber. A torrent of argument followed, until at last the guide said:

"This is very awkward; he appears to be adamant."

"Let me try," said Allan; "he won't understand my Arabic, but it may frighten him into doing what we want." He spoke to the man.

The policeman looked astonished, and froze at once.

The guide seemed to be as delighted as Mollie and Allan in the success of Allan's Arabic.

"Tell me," said Mollie, "did you understand what my husband said just now?"

"I did," said the guide, "but I doubt if Captain Billon's chosen companion did. He is Berber. But no matter; he is not following us."

"Poor man," said Mollie. "You didn't tell us your name, by the way."

The guide looked at her. "I am called 'Mamille,'" he said.

The building was for all the world like one of the older and uglier Scotch village churches, severe and plain, devoid of ornament, short of pews. Bare it certainly was, and square more or less; but two thirds of its space was separated by what, in an Anglican church would have been a reredos, but which was here a wooden wall two or three feet high, with wooden pillars mounting to the roof, wooden seats running around the wall, and the whole varnished in the worst of Victorian shades. There hung on the walls various closed cabinets, also varnished in an unhappy, Prince-Consort tincture of respectable brown. Camille showed them round, describing in a voice which did not trouble to hush the treasures of the place. (To Be Continued)

Illinois Budget Lists $6,397,700
Funds for Anna State Hospital

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—The State budget has listed a total of $12,145,100 in appropriations for Southern Illinois' two state mental hospitals, $5,747,400 for Alton, and $6,397,700 for Anna for the next biennium. The Alton figure represents an increase of $964,043 and $992,093 for Anna over the amount appropriated two years ago for the current biennium.

Biggest increase at Alton was under the heading for "personal services" for which $3,406,000 was recommended. This represents an increase of $431,700 over the amount provided in 1955. "Personal services" includes regular positions and extra help. Next biggest increase at Alton was for commodities—$1,511,200, an increase of $349,300 over the appropriation for the current biennium.

Like Alton, Anna's biggest single item increase was for "personal services". The budget lists $3,955,900 for the next biennium, a boost of $557,100 over the 1955 appropriation. Also, as in the case at Alton, Anna's next biggest jump was in commodities. The budget recommended $1,710,000 for the 1957-59 biennium, an increase of $195,000 over the amount appropriated two years ago.

Following is a breakdown of the total appropriation for this biennium for each of the two institutions:

Alaska has no police force, but the U. S. marshals of the judicial divisions have general police power.
